Q: Why should I use a pet sitter instead of boarding my pets?

- Your pet experiences less stress because they can stay in the comfort of their own home
- Their routine is more closely adhered to than if boarded
- They are in familiar surroundings
- Not caged (unless crate trained)
- No exposure to other animals that may be sick or have fleas, ringworm, etc.
- Your pet receives individual attention which is not always possible when boarding
- There is no inconveniencing neighbors, friends or relatives
- When a sitter visits with your pet(s) they will also be checking on your home and giving it a lived-in appearance. This will be accomplished by bringing in your mail, newspapers, watering plants/lawn, alternating lights and opening and closing blinds/shades.

Q: I work all day and worry about my dog getting exercise, clean water and attention during the day, especially on days when I have to work late. Can you check on my dog while I am at work?

We refer to this service as a daily dog walk. This is one of our most popular offerings. Our charges are the typical $15/visit. We also have a weekly rate for our customers that prefer to sign-up for a full work week, which is $60 for the week (5 days).

Q: Am I able to check in with my pets and keeps tabs on them while I am away?

Absolutely! For an additional $2/day we will include a brief daily diary, photos or videos of your pets that we can email to you or post the diaries, photos or video on our Facebook site or our private YouTube section.

Q: How are my keys handled?

We keep your key in a secure place for future sitting appointments. This allows us to accommodate a last minute or emergency sitting request. Keys are typically given to me at the time of the complementary consultation. A $5.00 fee will be charged to cover travel time and gas for additional key exchanges.
